

Do you have clients caring for someone with stroke?

They are invited to participate in the web site, Caring~Web[®], for caregivers of persons with stroke.

Caregivers can learn more about stroke and caring for their loved one from the comfort of their home any time, day or night.

This web site provides links to reputable educational information, as well as tips customized to the needs of caregivers.

The web site can be accessed over the Internet at:

<http://caringweb.utoledo.edu/>

Please share this information with anyone touched by stroke.
