With ARN
you’ve found the right place.

Membership
benefits include

- Six issues of the Rehabilitation Nursing journal
- Opportunities to earn six free online contact hours annually
- Exclusive online resources, such as the ARN “One-Click” Patient Education Resource, the online Membership Directory and eResource Hub
- ARN Health Policy and Advocacy Program, advocating for all rehabilitation nurses in Washington, DC
- ARN Network newsletter (ARN Update eNews), bringing you the latest industry news and activities of our association, and Rehab Watch weekly news brief
- Peer support and networking through our local chapters, the RehabNurse-L Listserv, task forces, and special interest groups
- Special member prices on annual conference registration, the RehabNurse-L Listserv, task forces, and special interest groups
- Peer support and networking through our local chapters, the RehabNurse-L Listserv, task forces, and special interest groups
- Special member prices on annual conference registration
- Patient Education Resources, the online Membership Directory, and scholarships

Rehab Watch and weekly news brief, bringing you all rehabilitation nurses in Washington, DC advocating for

Find out more about ARN membership today!

www.rehabnurse.org • info@rehabnurse.org

Join ARN today!

www.rehabnurse.org

How well-informed rehabilitation nurses get the support and information they need.

Rehabilitation Nursing
Your Passion Our Purpose

Join ARN today!

Mail payment with applications to ARN, PO Box 391, Oak Brook, IL 60522 or join online at www.rehabnurse.org.
expand your knowledge

ARN places your professional growth at the core of its mission. We know you are passionate about providing the best possible care to your patients. To that end, ARN is dedicated to providing a variety of resources aimed at meeting your practice needs. We offer publications and products on core rehabilitation principles, policies, and more. We also publish a series of webinars focusing on preparing nurses and rehabilitation professionals for key stages of the rehabilitation team.

Our award-winning journal, Rehabilitation Nursing, is edited by members who are some of the most valuable beneficiaries of belonging to ARN. The journal provides a broad range of timely articles, from clinical topics, administration, and research to patient education in addition to continuing education credits. Rehabilitation Nursing is proud to be a member of the Nursing Magazine Media Council.

The Association of Rehabilitation Nurses (ARN) is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation (ANCC-COA).

connect with colleagues

ARN recognizes that rehabilitation nursing presents a unique set of challenges. We offer professional and peer support to help members share their wealth of experience and knowledge as they work toward common goals in ARN, there are many ways to connect with this vibrant community.

As a rehabilitation nurse, you go above and beyond the call of duty to share ideas, develop professional excellence, providing a forum in which nurses from around the country are represented in Washington, DC. As a member, you can learn about rehabilitation nursing practice and policy with important to ARN and how ARN works on your behalf through the Policy and Advocacy Program. Each month, ARN delivers pertinent information to members about issues that affect our health delivery system and our national health care system. Alerts allow you to make your voice heard in nations capital. Our online Health Policy Toolkit can help you become an advocate for your patients and your professional.

advocate for our future

ARN is committed to creating a network of rehabilitation nurses across the country. Are you interested in learning more about helping you reach your goals. ARN provides support and connections to connect you with a community of like-minded rehabilitation nurses. Rehabilitation is a collaborative effort across the continuum of care; it is about wellness and quality of life across the lifespan, regardless of altered functional ability.

As a rehabilitation nurse, you go above and beyond the call of duty to share ideas, develop professional excellence, providing a forum in which nurses from around the country are represented in Washington, DC. As a member, you can learn about rehabilitation nursing practice and policy with important to ARN and how ARN works on your behalf through the Policy and Advocacy Program. Each month, ARN delivers pertinent information to members about issues that affect our health delivery system and our national health care system. Alerts allow you to make your voice heard in nations capital. Our online Health Policy Toolkit can help you become an advocate for your patients and your professional.

Shaping the Future of Rehabilitation Nursing

Our active Listserv gives you the chance to become part of a larger dialogue about common themes familiar to rehabilitation nurses and discussions about best practices. You can also learn about products, techniques, staffing patterns, and regulatory updates. In addition, you can interact with ARN members in your community through our many local chapters located across America.

ARN offers a wealth of opportunities for you to connect with your colleagues.

achieve excellence

ARN recognizes when it comes to obtaining a wealth of educational programs, products, and resources can enhance your professional credibility. Whether in person or online, each program is developed by experts and leaders in the field of rehabilitation nursing and geared toward enhancing your nursing skills to improve your practice. Educational formats include webinars, workshops, online courses, and face-to-face workshops. ARN members receive significant discounts on all educational programs and products.

ARN is dedicated to developing an ever-growing collection of resources, tools, and practice guidelines to support you every step of the way. For example, the ARN Competencies Assessment Tool (ARN-CAT) can help you assess your current level of knowledge in rehabilitation concepts, self-evaluate your performance, provide a foundation for setting goals, and evaluate your own professional growth. The Resource Center provides a wealth of tools, and best-practice guidelines to support you every day. For example, ARN members receive significant discounts on all educational programs and products.

ARN is dedicated to providing a wealth of educational programs, products, and resources can enhance your professional credibility. Whether in person or online, each program is developed by experts and leaders in the field of rehabilitation nursing and geared toward enhancing your nursing skills to improve your practice. Educational formats include webinars, workshops, online courses, and face-to-face workshops. ARN members receive significant discounts on all educational programs and products.